Transformation Through Teaching Nomination Fall 2011
Deadline September 30, 2011

The Spiritual Life Project at Florida State University is committed to celebrating evidence of meaning, purpose and authenticity within the FSU community. Transformation Through Teaching is a recognition designed to honor full-time faculty who have had an intellectual, inspirational, and integrative impact on your life as a student.

Thank you for nominating a faculty member for the Transformation Through Teaching recognition. If selected, we ask that you and your honored faculty member attend a dinner to honor the recipients at President Barron's home on November 7, 2011.

Student Nominator Name: ___________________________ Current Year in School: ___________________________

Student FSU Email: ___________________________ Student Mobile Number: ___________________________

Major: ___________________________ Minor: ___________________________

Faculty Nominee Name: ___________________________ Faculty Nominee Email: ___________________________

Faculty Department: ___________________________

Please answer each question in 150-200 words

How has this faculty member helped you find meaning and purpose in your academic pursuits? Please provide at least one specific story or example to demonstrate this faculty member's impact on your academic life.

How has this faculty member encouraged you (either by example or in direct conversation) to be authentic to your own individuality, thoughts or passion? Please provide at least one specific story or example to demonstrate this faculty member's impact on your life.

How has this faculty member transformed your life? Please refer to developments in your academic life and your individuality, and the path you will pursue in your immediate or long-term future. Please provide details of the interaction(s), a clear explanation of the transformation that has occurred for you and your reflection of what this transformation means to you.

Thank you for your nomination. Please email this nomination to: spirituallifeproject@fsu.edu by September 30, 2011.

The selection committee will respond to you by October 15, 2011 with the status of your nomination.