			and a doctoral or treatise student must be enrolled in a minimum of two hours of dissertation in the semester of graduation. If a non-thesis student needs only to complete the comprehensive examination in a term and did not register for the examination in the previous term, registration must be requested from the Office of the Registrar stating the department and name of the examination. Student must pay the "examination fee" only.
Continuous Enrollment for Doctoral Students		Makes all exceptions. If a "gap" is identified in which a doctoral student did not register for two hours of dissertation but was actually working with his/her supervisory committee, enrolled in other work, and/or using campus resources in any way, then additional dissertation hours may be requested to be added retroactively.	A doctoral student who has completed the required coursework, passed the Preliminary Examination and submitted an Admission to Candidacy form to the Office of the Registrar, and continues to use campus facilities and/or receives faculty supervision, but has not been cleared by the Manuscript Clearance office shall include in the required full-time load a minimum of two credit hours of dissertation per semester, including Summer term , until the completion of the degree.

			hours, except when the departmental course requirement exceeds the thirty-hour University-wide minimum requirement. In both instances, if the transfer credit hours exceed 6 external or 12 internal, then an exception request is sent to the Dean of the Graduate School for approval.
Graduate Certificate Hours		Makes all exceptions.	Students completing an undergraduate degree may not enter a graduate certificate program unless they are admitted as a degree-seeking graduate student or post-baccalaureate non-degree student. Undergraduate students cannot start taking graduate courses for a graduate certificate until the bachelor’s degree is awarded. Completion of undergraduate courses will not count toward a graduate certificate. Under extenuating circumstances, individual exceptions may be considered by the Graduate School.

For example, if a graduate student is a permanent resident alien with a citizenship to a non-native English-speaking country, then the student would not be exempt from taking the SPEAK exam and would need to pass it prior to being assigned any TA instructional assignment (Level 1-4). If the student took the IBTOEFL exam and achieved the appropriate score on the speaking section, then this would not be the case. In certain situations, if a graduate student has been in the U.S. for several years, is a permanent resident alien, and has graduated from an English-speaking institution (i.e., high school, bachelor’s degree, etc.) then a case can be made for consideration of an exception for the student to not take the SPEAK exam.
